BAJA SHOWCASES ITS BEST HOME DÉCOR IN SAN DIEGO

Today, on the 100th anniversary of the Mexican Revolution, some of Mexico's finest custom home décor manufacturing companies are opening a first-of-its-kind showroom in San Diego. Called Home By Baja, it's a revolutionary concept.

Utilizing lots of glass, iron, wood, ceramics and vibrant colors, the showroom features custom-manufactured indoor and outdoor furniture, window, wall and floor coverings, along with array of distinctive lighting. Each business was selected by the Baja California state government as the best example of that nation's quality, craftsmanship and style.

The showroom is designed to offer Californians an easy way to order and buy home décor designs previously available only by traveling to Baja. While the styles of furnishings range from rustic traditional and old world to contemporary minimalism and retro, artisans will custom-make almost any design. Many manufacturers are focusing on "green" designs, offering innovative décor products and furnishings produced with recycled materials.

"After decades of our loyal fans — homeowners, decorators, builders and architects — visiting us and ordering directly from our showrooms and factories in Baja California, we are finally returning the favor and opening our doors in San Diego," said Fausto Polanco, furniture designer for The
